Meeting the Challenges of Life

at Surrey Christian School, Secondary Campus

Roy Henry Vickers is a prolific artist who, in addition to his many other artistic endeavours and community interests, creates a steady flow of new limited edition prints each year. Many are sold out within months to regular collectors and fans who feel a personal connection with not only the art but with the artist. As well as being an artist, Roy is a natural storyteller, whose narratives resonate with his listeners. Accounts of his childhood and school experiences – discrimination, bullying and mentorship – and as an adult – overcoming addiction and working in recovery – leave audience members feeling engaged, uplifted and inspired.

With every challenge there is success.

Open to the public
